Set in a posh, private boarding school surrounded by luxuriant, green forest, Lost and Delirious moves swiftly from academic routine, homesickness, and girlish silliness to the darker region of lover's intrigue. Mary has just arrived at Perkins Girl's College. She has left behind the small town where she grew up, her father and her stepmother. Mary is quickly adopted by her 2 senior roommates, the striking, sharp-witted Paulie and the charming and beautiful Tory. These 3 bond over lost. They became inseparable. Although they are the closest friends Mary has ever had, she is still confused by the depth of the relationship Paulie and Tory. This world comes crashing down when Tory and Paulie are inadvertently caught in an compromising situation. Unable to justify their relationship to her family. Tory gives in to the pressure and distances herself from Paulie and her own feelings. Defiantly refusing to submit, Paulie struggles to keep Tory. Mary is left torn between her friends.
